HARGE ADAMS TRYING

DENVER, Feb. 25.—A lively debate was precipitated in the senate late today by the introduction of a motion by Senator Burris to the effect that a lender committed of five men should be appointed and that President Franklin Roosevelt sign the bill.

The resolution was fought by the so-called "progressive Democrats," led by Senator John I. Tierney of Denver, who charged the presiding officer with being connected with efforts to "job the people" by allowing only certain platform measures to be taken under non-

MONEY TRUST MENACE TO COUNTRY, SAYS COMMITTEE

Three Separate Reports Are Submitted, Differing on Results of Investigation; Remedial Legislation Urged

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Three divergent reports were presented to the house today by the members of the committee which conducted the money trust investigation.

The majority report, signed by Chairman Pajo and the six other Democratic members of the committee, found that a money trust exists, according to their understanding of the term. This report names as the "most active agents in bringing about the concentration of money and credit," J. P. Morgan & Co., First National and National City banks, and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., of New York, and Lee, Higginson & Co., and Kidder, Peabody & Co., of Boston.

Two bills accompanied the report, one forbidding the use of the mails to stock exchanges which fail to observe prescribed stringent regulations as to the conduct of their business, and the other prescribing rigid rules for the conduct of national banks, their officers and clearing house associations to which they belong. This report is substantially in accord with the conclusions presented to the committee by Samuel Untermyer, counsel.

The first minority report, signed by Representative Hayes of California, Representative Hough of Delaware and Representative Guernsey of Maine, Republicans, sets forth that the investigation "has not disclosed the existence of any so-called money trust," but added, "it has, however, disclosed a dangerous concentration of credit in New York city, and, to some extent, in Boston and Chicago."

Doubt Wisdom of Proposed Remedies. "While agreeing substantially with the majority," said the report, "on many of the abuses to be corrected in the financial system, the stock exchanges and the clearing house associations, the undersigned has doubts as to the wisdom of some of the remedies proposed by the majority."

This report further sets forth the belief that before definitely recommending any remedial legislation, testimony should be taken covering more fully the effect of the various changes in the laws that have been suggested. "It manifestly is impossible," the report concludes, "that any of the proposed legislation can be considered by congress, and it seems to be wise to leave the matter of recommending remedial legislation to those who will be charged with the responsibility of formulating and recommending such legislation to congress."

An individual minority report filed by Representative McMoran, of Michigan, Republican, was a full, detailed disavowal of the recommendations and findings of the majority. "While I believe that attention has been called to grave deficiencies in our financial laws," I also believe that our financial fight has been thrown overboard by the facts that are not justified by the facts; that no effort has been made to show the reasonable and commendable explanations of these practices, and that in many cases an impression has been given to the country as to the character and motives of leading bankers which is altogether unfair.

"A sentiment has been created throughout the country against Wall street, and many of our good citizens do not realize what it means that New York has become one of the world's leading money markets, and that the banks of New York and their associates now are able to handle large transactions which they were unable to handle only a few years since. I feel that every American citizen should be proud of the fact that in a city where there is sufficient capital to handle these enterprises, and should take pride also in the character and integrity of the men who are at the head of its financial institutions."

Mr. McMoran declared the proposed scheme of regulation of stock exchanges "drastic and unwarranted," and that there was "no real evil" in interlocking directorates.

HOW CONCENTRATION IS BROUGHT ABOUT.

The majority report, after declaring the existence of a money trust, said that "the increased concentration of control of money and credit had been effected principally as follows:

"First—Through consolidation of competitive banks and trust companies, which consolidations, in turn, have recently been brought under sympathetic management.

"Second—Through the same powerful interests becoming large stockholders in potentially competitive banks and trust companies. This is the simplest way of acquiring control, but since it requires the largest investment of capital, it is the least used, although the recent investments in that direction for that purpose amount to tens of millions of dollars in present market values.

"Third—Through the concentration of potentially competitive banks and trust companies by means of the system of interlocking directorates.

"Fourth—Through the influence which the more powerful banking houses, banks and trust companies have secured in the management of insurance companies, railroads, producing and trading corporations, and public utility corporations, by means of stockholdings, voting trusts, fiscal agency contracts or representation upon their boards of directors, or through applying the money requirements of railway, in-

Two Children Have Good Time Pulling Gov. Wilson's Hair

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Two little children, a boy of 5 and a girl of 2, gave President-elect Wilson an hour of diversion today when he rode to New York from Philadelphia after a visit to his dentist.

President James McCreary of the Pennsylvania, whose private car happened to be attached to the same train, greeted Mr. Wilson, inviting him to luncheon in his own car. The president-elect had arranged to dine with members of his party in the dining car and declined. The railroad president sat with Mr. Wilson for a few minutes chatting. At the other end of the car was a blue-eyed youngster, blowing a toy whistle. He was watching the president-elect and as soon as Mr. McCreary left, the little fellow proceeded to make the acquaintance of the future president, who received him, in his arms, found that his name was Clark Greenwood, Jr., and that he was fond of pulling hair.

Master Greenwood found Mr. Wilson a ready listener to his infant utterances. He rapidly grew more intimate and soon his acquaintance extended to the privilege of fingering the president-elect's ears, rubbing his face, and dancing up and down on his knee, all of which Mr. Wilson seemed to enjoy immensely.

A moment later little Clark Greenwood came toddling along from the other end of the car to find his brother and she, too, was soon on friendly terms with the president-elect. Both children were presently perched safely on the knees of the next president of the United States, unconscious of the unusual situation. Mrs. Clark Greenwood of Narberth, Pa., mother of the two children, had her youngest child, a baby, for a few moments and chatted with the president-elect.

NEW MEXICO MAY VOTE PROHIBITION

House Adopts Resolution to Submit Question to Voters

SANTA FE, N. M., Feb. 28.—By a vote of 35 to 10 the lower house of the New Mexico legislature this afternoon adopted a resolution providing for the submission to the electorate of the state of a statewide prohibition constitutional amendment. The resolution now goes to the senate, where it is said sentiment for it is favored.

For the second time in less than a year, Governor W. C. McDonald today vetoed the county salary bill, providing pay for county officers who have served without compensation since statehood. The senate on receipt of the veto message immediately took up the bill under suspension of the rules and passed it over the governor's veto by a vote of 19 to 5.

The bill then went to the house, where, after debate, it was carried over until Monday. The lower body is expected by that time to muster the necessary two-thirds majority to pass the bill over the executive veto. The house lacked two votes. It is said, if being able to do this today.

'CONSERVATION OF ENERGY' NEEDED

F. H. McLean Submits Report to Chamber Commerce on Charity Situation Here

PRaises Work Thus Far Says Associated Charities Must Be Natural Center. Other Suggestions

FRANCIS H. McLean, secretary of the American Association of Societies for Organizing Charity, who has spent the last week in Colorado Springs studying the conditions of charitable work, presented the report yesterday at a public hearing in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce in the Burns building. He discussed in detail the results of his study of the social field in this city and made a number of recommendations which this study had suggested to him. The chief of these recommendations was that a central council of social agencies be formed in this city.

The trend of McLean's report was that conservation of energy in social work is what is chiefly needed, and he praised the work so far done here. Although definite action has not yet been taken on it, it is understood that the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce will call a meeting of the various organizations involved in McLean's recommendations, to be held in the near future for consideration of the things he suggested and for action on them.

The meeting yesterday afternoon was largely attended. McLean expects to leave Colorado Springs today.

The report, in part, is as follows: Considering the whole situation for a city of your size and age you have grown quite rapidly in the philanthropic field. Your development is more extensive than what I would expect to find in a city of this size, particularly one west of the Mississippi and east of the Sierra Nevada. The situation in most of the intermediate cities is one where the application of galvanic shocks is necessary in order to bring about even reasonable progress. My duty, then, has been generally that of exhorter and promoter, but that is not the kind of treatment required here. Here it is the conservation of energy and its proper application. Therefore, I may have to make certain ungracious suggestions, yet I trust that none of them will be negative, but all constructive. Let me also frankly say that the actual existence of certain plagues is reckoned as a condition and not a theory. In other words, my suggestions would be different if some existing plagues were not already here. But I am taking the situation as it exists today, and am trying to work out on that basis. At the end I will strongly urge a plan which will mean more systematic, real progress in the future.

Associated Charities a Natural Center.

In the field of family rehabilitation the natural center must always be the Associated Charities. All relief should not pass through its hands, but it should know what other organizations are doing. There is little duplication here in this field, but whatever slight amount there may be will be easily remedied through the confidential exchange which has just been established. I would recommend that be established.

ROCKEFELLER FOUGHT CARNEGIE FOR LANDS

Were Bitter Opponents in Late Nineties for Ore Property

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—John D. Rockefeller and Andrew Carnegie fought each other in the late nineties to monopolize the Lake Superior ore lands. Mr. Rockefeller caught Mr. Carnegie's company violating an agreement and forced it to give up ore properties containing seventy-five million tons, according to testimony at the hearings to dissolve the United States Steel corporation under the Sherman antitrust law, resumed here today.

James Sayley, former vice president of the corporation and a director of the Carnegie Steel company, previous to its acquisition by the corporation in 1901, was the witness through whom the testimony was adduced. He testified to efforts of the Carnegie company to obtain new properties in the district as the result of the representations that Mr. Rockefeller had proposed to join with the Federal Steel company, the Carnegie rival, to "control the manufacture of steel the same as he does oil."

STRAY SHOTS FROM U. S. BATTLESHP KILL ONE

NEW YORK, March 1.—(Saturday)—Stray shots, which are said to have come from the United States battleships, Vermont, Nebraska and Georgia, at target practice in the Gulf of Mexico, Friday, killed a man on shore and wounded three fishermen, according to a dispatch to the New York Times from Vera Cruz, Mexico.

PASS WEBB BILL OVER TAFT VETO

GOES TO HOUSE TODAY FOR REPASSAGE

Action Follows Receipt of President's Message in Upper House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The Webb bill, which passed the senate yesterday, will go to the house today for repassage. The bill, which was vetoed by President Taft, is a measure to amend the National Bank Act, and is one of the most important measures of the session. It was passed by a vote of 74 to 16 in the senate.

ELECTRICAL WORKERS IN WEST THREATEN TO STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Twenty-five hundred members of the Electrical Workers International Brotherhood, employed in six western states, have authorized the Pacific district council of their union to call a strike against the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, unless their demands are adjusted. An official canvass of the vote is not yet complete, but officials of the union said here today that the measure could not alter the general result, which is overwhelmingly in favor of a strike.

The states affected are California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Nevada, and a portion of Arizona. An increase of 50 cents a day, from $3.75 to $4.25 is asked, and the company has offered to compromise on $4. This offer the union now definitely rejects.

Eugene E. Smith, vice president of the union, was emphatic, however, in his assertions that he did not believe there would be a strike. He argued that the company would not put the public to so much inconvenience.

A conference between company and union officials met this afternoon. Membership in the union includes linemen, switchboard repairmen, and many other technical workers, who ask separate consideration, in addition to increased wages. It is also desired that foremen who work on a flat salary basis, irrespective of hours, benefit in proportion with the men.

WOMAN PASTOR FOR UNIVERSALIST CHURCH

The Rev. Mrs. Charlotte Davis Crossley, formerly of Kent, O., arrived in this city yesterday noon to take up the pastorate of the local Christ Universalist church, and will preach her first sermon at 8 a. m. tomorrow morning. The service will be held in Odd Fellows temple, which is to be used for the present by that congregation. Mrs. Crossley is to make her home for the time being with Mrs. Belle King, 11 East Ramona avenue, New York.

She visited in this city for one month about two years ago, and since that time the local church has been continuously carrying on negotiations to have her come here as a regular pastor.

The Rev. Mrs. Crossley closed her work at Kent last Sunday. She was at that time of an increased salary, but refused it in order to come to this city. In connection with the closing of her pastorate there last Sunday she dedicated a new church and took in a score of members.

She has been characterized as one of the most convincing and forceful lady speakers in the ministry. She is an active member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and of the Women's Relief corps. Mrs. Crossley was one of the prime movers in the project to build a canopy over the spring which burst forth during the Imperialism of the Tulsa soldiers at the Andersonville prison during the Civil war, and she was one of the first contributors to this work. The canopy was completed a few years ago.

Supreme Court Deals Body Early Morning Fire Reaps Heavy Toll of Life—All Bodies Not Found

DECISION MOST IMPORTANT Tuberculosis Bill Precipitates Live Discussion in the House

By WALTER LAWSON WILDER. DENVER, Feb. 28.—The supreme court today rendered a decision which will blow a heavy blow to the initiative and referendum movement in this state. The court held that the general assembly may repeal any law that has been passed by the people, and the assembly may also amend or change any law that has been passed by the people. This decision is a heavy blow to the initiative and referendum movement, which has been one of the most important features of the state's government since its constitution was adopted.

The decision of the court, which was rendered today, is a heavy blow to the initiative and referendum movement in this state. The court held that the general assembly may repeal any law that has been passed by the people, and the assembly may also amend or change any law that has been passed by the people. This decision is a heavy blow to the initiative and referendum movement, which has been one of the most important features of the state's government since its constitution was adopted.

Says Amendment Defective.

Without establishing the preference between the two laws passed at the general election, the supreme court today decided in favor of the law passed by the people, and that the amendment is defective.

For its authoritative decision, the supreme court goes to the initiative and referendum amendment, which contains two clauses inconsistent with its general intent and purpose as commonly understood. The first of these clauses declares that the referendum shall not apply to measures that are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety. According to the supreme court, it is within the power of the assembly to declare when such a condition exists and that decision is final. The legislature may therefore exempt any measure from the referendum by enacting this clause. This decision of the Colorado court is in harmony with the similar decision of the supreme court of the state of Oregon.

The second clause is to be found in the amendment which declares: "This section shall not be construed to deny."

TURKEY IS RETICENT OVER PEACE MOVES

May Entrust Fate to Powers for Settlement of Controversy

LONDON, Mar. 1.—(Saturday)—Great reticence is being observed concerning Turkey's new move for securing peace with the Balkan allies. According to the Daily Telegraph, there is reason to believe Turkey is about to entrust her cause to the powers without stipulating any conditions. Assuming this to be the case, the Turkish government is making a bold move, and the allies will not express surprise if the move is successful. Turkey's making direct overtures to them and whether they will consent to any terms while Adrianople and Serrai still are holding out.

No further news has been received here as to the military situation at the front.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—A pronounced belief is prevalent in official circles here that peace in the Balkans is imminent. Tewfik Pasha and Hakkî Pasha, representing the Ottoman government, paid successive visits to the foreign office this afternoon, but nothing could be learned as to the nature of the conferences.

Turkey's offer to conclude hostilities on the basis of the cessation of Adrianople to Bulgaria has created general optimism. Turkey, it is understood, contends that her frontier line shall be drawn from Midia on the Black sea to Leos on the Aegean sea if she gives up Adrianople and it is believed that Bulgaria will raise no objection to this proposal.

HUERTA GOVERNMENT INDORSED BY REBEL LEADERS IN NORTH

On Verge of Conflict.

CANANEA, Mexico, Feb. 28.—Opposing factions here are on the verge of an armed conflict. Closely confined to their quarters in the barracks are 300 federal troops, under the command of Colonel Moreno, who has determined that if there is to be a fight, the Madristas, who have threatened to storm the barracks, must take the initiative.

Adherence of Madristas, inflamed by the refusal of the Sonora state congress to declare against the Huerta government and its action in ousting Governor Maytorena, have been arming themselves. Tonight it is estimated that 400 Madristas are bearing rifles.

Miners Ask for Guns.

Fifty miners came in from Pueblo Nuevo before daylight this morning and asked the prefect for rifles and ammunition. The official informed them that all arms and ammunition were kept at the barracks.

The Madristas have maintained a guard over the city hall and jail night and day.

The federal commander placed a detachment of 25 men with a machine gun on the old fortifications in the rear of the Cananea club, an organization of Americans. The station commands all of the principal approaches to the chief section of the city.

CHARGE ADAMS TRYING TO 'JOB THE PEOPLE'

SENATOR BURRIS TO BE CALLED TO ACCOUNT

DENVER, Feb. 28.—Senator Burris was proclaimed in the senate here today as the champion of the "job the people" charge. The charge is that Senator Burris is trying to "job the people" by allowing only certain forms of measures to be taken under consideration, while he and his associates go through measures of their own device.

Senator Tobin replied and accusations of playing politics flew thick and fast.

The motion prevailed unanimously. The Tierney faction not voting. Senator Adams then appointed Senators Tobin, Pearson, Hiltz and Hayden as the four members of the committee.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box keeps your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and you feel cheerful and buoyant for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing too.

WILSON FAVORS REPEAL OF TOLL ACT EXEMPTING AMERICAN SHIPS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—President-elect Wilson has made known to Democratic senate leaders most closely in his confidence that he favors the passage of Senator Root's amendment to the Panama canal bill to repeal the provision exempting American coastwise ships from payment of toll.

It was said today that the new president had made his position plain largely to several Democratic senators. It was the subject of remark because Senator O'Driscoll of New York, who has been regarded as more or less a spokesman for Mr. Wilson, is a sturdy opponent of the Root amendment and a champion of free passage for American ships.

There is no likelihood of any action on the Root repeal amendment during the few remaining days of the Sixty-second congress. It was recently tabled in the senate intercommissary committee, thus preventing the possibility of even being brought before the senate on a minority report.

It is expected to be renewed at the next congress, probably during the extra session.

Big Oration Cwen "Pilgrim Army" on Arrival in Capital

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—General Roscoe Jones and her suffragette army marched triumphantly into the capital shortly before noon today, through the capitol grounds and down Pennsylvania avenue with an escort of local enthusiasts and citizens, which fairly choked the streets and delayed traffic. It was one of the most remarkable street demonstrations ever seen here.

The presidential inauguration could hardly have presented a more enthusiastic spectacle than the Pennsylvania avenue from the capitol to the treasury building after the plucky, disheveled band of suffragette pilgrims swung wearily around the Peace monument for the final stage of their 250-mile march for the cause of equal franchise.

Incoming presidents have not received more clamorous applause than did the company of brown-clad women huddled in a little group, forced to fight their way through veritable walls of shouting humanity for more than a mile of their historic hike.

Police were powerless to restrain the crowds which overflowed from the sidewalks and choked the long thoroughfare from the capitol to the suffrage headquarters. So dense was the mob of cheering men and women that the march up Pennsylvania avenue resolved itself into a struggle to make progress.

MONEY TRUST

The vast issues of securities now demanded by the commercial and industrial development of the country, but the bank reserve system, it is further contended, concentrates a large part of the smaller banks in New York, where a group of men have strengthened their interest in the various banking institutions.

The committee outlined the membership as follows:

The parties to this combination of understanding or community of interest by whatever name it may be called, may be conveniently classified, for the purpose of differentiation, into four separate groups.

The first, which we will call the inner group, consists of J. P. Morgan and Company, the recognized leaders, and George F. Baker and James Stillman in their individual capacities and in their joint administration and control of the First National bank, the National City bank, the National Bank of Commerce, the Chase National bank, the Guaranty Trust company and the Bankers Trust company, with total known resources of these corporations alone, in excess of $1,300,000,000 and a number of smaller but important financial institutions.

Other institutions are closely allied.

Closely allied with this inner group and indeed related to them practically as partners, in many of their larger financial enterprises, are the powerful international banking houses of Lee Higginson and company and Kildner, Post body and company, with three affiliated banks in Boston.

In New York city the international banking house of Messrs. Kuhn, Loeb & Company, with its large foreign clientele and connections, whilst only nominally allied with the inner group, yet through its close relations with the National City bank and the National Bank of Commerce and other financial institutions, with which it has recently allied itself, has many interests in common, conducting large joint transactions with them, especially in recent years, and having what eventually amounts to an understanding not to compete, which is defended as a principle of "banking ethics." Together they have, with a few exceptions, preempted the banking business of the important railways of the country.

SYSTEM OF INTERLOCKING DIRECTORATES CONDEMNED.

The report condemned interlocking directorates and consolidations, and devoted considerable space to a statement showing the development of control through these agencies in New York institutions.

"It is manifestly improper," said the report, "and repugnant to the theory and practice of competition that the same person or members of the same firm shall undertake to set in such inconsistent capacities."

The report condemns the use of voting trusts in the control of financial institutions, and criticizes private bankers in the capacity of depositaries for interstate corporations.

The recommendations of the committee, as set forth in the report, and as embraced in the bills accompanying the report urged the following reforms:

"Clearing house associations of which national banks are members should be required to become bodies corporate of the states in which they are located and every solvent and trustworthy bank or trust company should have the right, enforceable at law, to become and remain a member."

Regular periodical examinations of members by a committee of the clearing house association should be prohibited, and instead all such examinations should be conducted by public authorities.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR RESTRICTION OF BANKS.

Among the recommendations for the restriction of national banks, the committee sets forth 23 regulations. These were:

"The prohibition of the consolidation of two or more banks, without the approval of the comptroller of the currency; prohibition of directors serving on the boards of more than one bank in the same community or locality; forbidding ownership of stock in one national bank by any other bank or trust company; forbidding voting trusts in the control of banks; providing for cumulative voting in the election of national bank directors; forbidding security holding companies as adjuncts to national banks; forbidding interstate corporations from constituting any banking establishment; forbidding the sole fiscal agents; forbidding interstate corporations to be established with unsupervised, unregulated, private banks; with their forces in the district about Villa Guaymas, Morelos, their home. Pending arrangements with the government, they are reported to be maintaining excellent order in that district and it is not improbable that President Huerta will secure their cooperation, though possibly it will be necessary for him to pay their forces something in the nature of an indemnity.

The towns occupied by these peaceful Zapatistas include Tecuila and Acapulco, near Cuernavaca. Nearby is another district in which the forces of General de la O, Amador Sanchez and Juan Orejon are operating. Antonio Limon, the most notorious of the five Zapatista leaders executed in Morelos, was captured after a brief engagement and shot without trial. That all of Limon's men are now disposed to adopt this attitude is indicated by the news.

Tacubaya, a suburb of the capital, of a force of his men, and of troops of Trinidad Ruiz, totaling 2,000, awaiting incorporation in the regular army of Huerta.

THREE OF MADEROS KILLED.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Official announcement of the killing of Emilio Madero, brother of the former president of Mexico reported several times recently, was contained in a dispatch from Ambassador Wilson, who reported Madero shot while leading a rebel force in the northern states. This brings the death list of Maderos to the recent Mexican trouble up to three.

No confirmation has been received of the reported death of Raul Madero, another brother.

Conditions in southern Mexico, Ambassador Wilson reports seem rapidly to be improving. The governor of Yucatan, brother-in-law to former Vice President Suarez, is reported to have advised the Huerta government of his submission; as have the governors of Tabasco, Oaxaca and Campeche.

The consul at Nogales, reporting Maderist activities in eastern Sonora says a band of rebels is gathering to oppose the Huerta government. Reporting the burning of 15 bridges on the Mexican Central railway north of Tucson, the consul at Durango says there is a rumor that Campa's rebel band of 1,200 shortly will lay down arms.

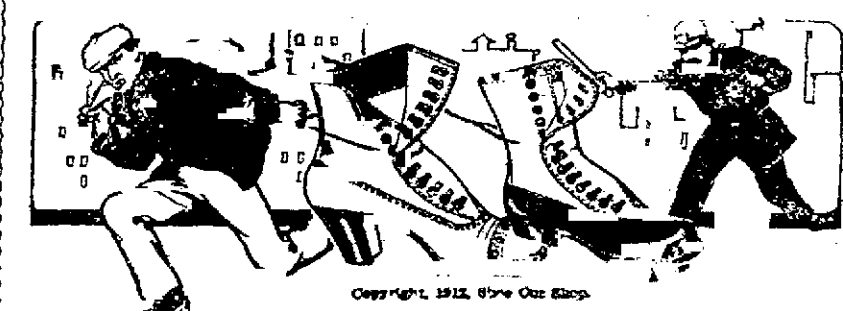

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Feb. 28.—"To arms, loyal Mexican. Show your patriotism and let your powder roar," is the appeal on hand bills entitled "the war cry." The document is signed the endorsement, second volunteers of the north, and is being circulated today in northern Sonora and along the American side of the border. Deserters from federal ranks are camped at Canas, Springs, southeast of Agua Prieta. Communication has been restored below Douglas.

Philadelphia is agitating the subject of so amending its charter as to reduce the number of its councilmen.

Abella of Isleta, N. M. The chiefs paid little attention to the painted and sculptured likenesses of other great Americans while being guided through the capitol, but removed their hats and gazed reverently at the various Lincoln memorials.

REPORTED DIVORCE SUIT STAGGERS MR. B. NELSON

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 28.—When Basil Nelson arrived in Savannah this afternoon from New York, he denied knowledge of any intention on the part of his wife, Mrs. Fay King Nelson, to sue for divorce.

"This is staggering," he said, when shown a dispatch and as far as I know there is not a word of truth in it. Mrs. Nelson is now in Denver and I have been writing to her and receiving letters from her regularly. The name of her father is Jack King, and he and I are the best of friends. I am now planning to either meet Mrs. Nelson in Chicago on March 11 or go to Denver to celebrate her birthday. We are on the best of terms."

NEW GAME BILL HAS NOT BEEN PASSED

According to information from Denver, the new game bill which provides for an extension of the season has not been passed by the legislature. It is believed that it will be adopted, but under the initiative and referendum law must be held up for 90 days so that the voters of the state may have it referred to popular vote if they so desire.

ASSEMBLY CAN REPEAL

Robinson on Decision. Senator William C. Robinson, this afternoon was asked what was his opinion about the supreme court decision. "I heard the decision read," he said, "but I should not like to express a final opinion until I have examined it carefully. Its seeming effect is to destroy the initiative and referendum, for it gives the assembly power to repeal any initiated act, and to attach the saving clause, saying that the proposed law is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety. In my opinion, this decision is the result of carelessness in drawing the initiative and referendum amendment, and it is an example of what frequently happens when laws and amendments are not properly drawn."

The senate today passed on third reading the memorial, which is the anti-conservation protest, and also senate bill 170, which gives the supreme court authority to make rules of procedure regardless of the statute code.

Tuberculosis Bill. The bill requiring stricter precautions against the spread of tuberculosis caused a lively discussion in the house this morning. Representatives Kavanaugh and Thomas of Colorado Springs expressed themselves as favoring the bill, the provisions of which, said Mr. Kavanaugh, are similar to those of a city ordinance which has been found beneficial in Colorado Springs. Mr. Sweet of Denver also called attention to the fact that recent orders by the state board of health, acting under the general health statutes, require a report to the local board of health of any change of room or residence made by a person suffering with tuberculosis in any form, so that provision can be made for the proper disinfection of the premises.

Remarkable Catarrh Cure

Gets Right into the Affected Parts and Stops Gathering in Eyes, Nose, Throat and Lungs.

"Nine-tenths of humanity suffer with catarrh but do not know what catarrh is," said an expert doctor, a specialist in blood analysis. It is treated locally because nature tries to drive it out of the system. But nature must have help.

Nasal catarrh is merely an outlet, and it is folly to expect a cure by inhalant or local applications. If a stream is polluted at its source it is ridiculous to waste time in purification at its mouth.

By long series of elaborate experiments it has been proved that catarrh is definitely known that catarrh can be cured by the simple process of inoculating the blood with autolysin remedies that stop inflammatory conditions throughout the mucous lining of all the organs of the body. This is done with the famous Swift's Sure Specific, or as it is widely known, S. S. S. It is taken into the blood just as naturally as the most nourishing food. It spreads its influence over every organ of the body, comes through all the veins and arteries, dissolves all mucus surfaces to exchange inflammatory acids and other irritating substances for arterial elements that effectually clear the system and thus put an end to all catarrhal pollution. S. S. S. cleans out the stomach of mucus accumulations, enables only pure blood-making materials to enter the intestines, combines with these food elements to enter the circulation, and in less than an hour is at work throughout the body in the process of purification.

You will soon realize its wonderful influence by the absence of headache, a decided clearing of the air passages, a steadily improved nasal condition, a sense of bodily relief that proves how completely catarrh often infests the entire system. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 per bottle. It is remarkable merely for any and all blood affections, such as eczema, rash, lupus, tetter, psoriasis, boils and all scrofulous conditions. For special advice on any blood disease write in confidence to The Swift Specific Co., 117 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Do not delay to get a bottle of S. S. S. at your druggist.

There are four cultural and recreational centers, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Boys' club and the extension center of the Y. W. C. A. The two latter strictly neighborhood centers are located in the heart of the city. Everyone of the activities is fulfilling a definite function and is doing constructive work. As to the future work of the Y. W. C. A., it is focused upon the girl, though involving the whole group. It must not be forgotten that with the growth of recreational opportunities the home is becoming a lost ground. This applies to families of all grades. A great change has been suggested. The extension work may well supplement the efforts of the Associated Charities, the Visiting Nurse association, and the Y. W. C. A. The common sense point of view is that there is just conservation of energy and resources. The project is to start a settlement upon an independent basis in the same neighborhood is entirely good in itself, but you cannot do everything at once, and the pace has been rapid.

Over-specialization in one field means weakening in others. Perfect cooperation might be worked between the two centers, so that the children would not be running from one to the other. It appears that the second plan really related the first, and therefore the Y. W. C. A. may well be called upon to make concessions. My appeal is that an attempt be still made to combine the resources for the two independent centers into one center, thus giving it added strength. In order to do this both the Y. W. C. A. and the other group must make allowances. A public health and recreation center of the home as outlined by the other group. If over a public appeal is made, there will be the strongest sort of unity.

CONFIRMED PROOF

Residents of Colorado Springs Cannot Doubt What Has Been Twice Proved

In gratitude for relief from aches and pains of bad back, from distressing kidney ills—thousands have publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of Colorado Springs, who so testified years ago, now say the results were permanent. This testimony doubly proves the worth of Doan's Kidney Pills to Colorado Springs kidney sufferers.

Mrs. H. M. Fitzhugh, 311 N. Weber St., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "My kidneys were badly disordered and when I caught cold, it made them worse. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply at the D. V. Butcher Drug Co. They made my kidneys normal and stopped the other troubles." (Statement given August 15, 1911.)

On October 22, 1912, Mrs. Fitzhugh said: "I am glad to confirm the testimonial I gave in 1911 in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. I have had little, if any, kidney complaint since."

THE SERVANT PROBLEM

THE question, why is there a surplus of female applicants for work in factories and stores, and a corresponding shortage of domestic servants? raised by a contributor to the Open Parliament a few days ago, has inspired a lively discussion. Most of the replies have been written by avowed Socialists, nearly all of whom assume the same position. One contributor, himself editor of a local Socialist paper, suggested the use of the public schools in summer for the teaching of domestic science with the object of equipping young women for domestic service.

But it appears that other Socialists—at least those who have broken into the Open Parliament column—violently oppose this suggestion for the extraordinary reason that it might tend to make so many competent domestic servants that wages would be forced down. They frankly admit that at present there is a large demand for such employees all over the country at wages far above those of factory and store employees. But it seems that they are afraid for other young women to be equipped for such work for fear that eventually the applicants may outnumber the jobs. In other words, if you are starving just now, don't eat when you have the chance for fear you might sometime die of gourmandizing.

There is not much chance of getting anywhere with the discussion of this and related questions so long as our Socialist friends insist on obtruding their "class consciousness" feeling. For instance, the writer of one of the letters printed today argues as if the only employers of domestic servants were people living in the "north end," and assumes that the writer of the letter signed "Citizen" were a resident of that particular part of the community.

Now it happens that "Citizen" does not live in the north end, but in the south end, and it also happens that this is not a matter which affects any one residential section of any community to the exclusion of other sections. Any householder, wherever he may live, usually wants to employ a domestic servant if he needs one and has the means to pay for one. His social status has nothing to do with the case; the only question involved is whether the employee can perform the desired service and is willing to accept the terms of employment.

However, it may be that not all of the young women who would like to fit themselves for such employment are Socialists, and that there are a few who would gladly take advantage of a chance to learn domestic science without cost in the public schools and thereby obtain employment at from $25 to $40 a month with room and board added. And we are also inclined to think that not many of them would find in actual experience the awful conditions depicted by our Socialist contributors.

THE SUFRAGETTE MARCHERS

YESTERDAY "General" Rosalie Jones and her suffragette army entered the national capital and marched down Pennsylvania avenue, "with an escort of local enthusiasts and citizens," says the press dispatch, "which fairly choked the streets and delayed traffic."

We can well believe it. "General" Rosalie and her band are heroines, after a fashion. They have endured the hardships of a 250-mile hike in mid-winter without much complaint and with relatively few defections from their ranks. True, on the march from New York to Albany a number of them took the first trains back home when the snow fell and the thermometer followed its example. But "General" Rosalie and enough of her stouter-hearted followers to make a respectable showing stayed on the job. And now they are in Washington, prepared to impress the incoming administration and the new Congress and the thousands of inaugural visitors with the worthiness of their cause.

They might better have stayed at home. America is not England, and the spectacular methods of the suffragettes who smash windows, tear up flower beds, indulge in street demonstrations and pelt public officials with superannuated eggs, are not necessary to convince the American public of the justice of their cause. Ten states have already granted the vote to women, and in each case the victory was won on its merits and without resort to circus-clown methods.

It is perfectly safe to assume that neither the incoming President nor any member of his Cabinet, nor of Congress, will be converted to woman's suffrage by the spectacle of a lot of bedraggled women marching through the streets of Washington after a 250-mile hike from New York. Rather they are likely to view the delegation merely as misguided enthusiasts whose valor outweighs their discretion.

Woman's suffrage is steadily winning its way because it appeals to common sense and justice. But it has nothing to gain by employing the methods of "General" Jones and her followers.

CASTRO IN CUBA

QUITE unknown to the immigration authorities, General Cipriano Castro, formerly president of Venezuela, slipped away from New York while still under bond and landed at Havana. There he was given a characteristic Latin-American welcome, and immediately became the hero of the hour. Incidentally, he met, by appointment, former President Zelaya of Nicaragua, a blood-thirsty wretch who was driven out of his own country after an extraordinary career of autocratic misrule. Zelaya's mission in Cuba is said to be to foment an uprising against the government.

It is not altogether easy for the Anglo-Saxon mind to fathom the mental processes of the Latin-American. In the last few weeks we have had an opportunity to observe its workings at close hand by watching events in Mexico. Huerta and Diaz in that country, Zelaya in Nicaragua, and Castro in Venezuela, all seem to be tarred with the same stick. None of them is able to rise above the role of adventurer, because none of them possesses the faintest conception of the real meaning of liberty under law, or of enlightened self-government as it is understood by Teutonic and Anglo-Saxon peoples. Their perpetual ambition is to grasp power by force of arms and then enrich themselves by plundering the people, or failing in this, to start a revolution against whoever has managed to get control of the government.

Castro has been a trouble maker from the beginning, and is a bird of evil omen whether he happens to be in his own country or abroad. The Cuban government might avoid trouble by shipping him on the first outward bound steamer.

KEEP THE WALKS CLEAN

NOW that the last snowfall has all but vanished from the sidewalks (thanks to the sun) it may not be out of place to remark the possibility of still another snow storm this winter. And this suggests the obvious advantages of keeping the sidewalks clean.

There is an ordinance which provides for the timing of anyone who fails to remove the snow from the sidewalks abutting his premises, but like a good many other city ordinances it is more honored in the breach than in the observance. True this law is not easily enforced, for there are about 425 miles of streets in Colorado Springs with twice that mileage of sidewalks.

Nevertheless, it ought to be practicable for the Police Department to enforce it at least on the principal streets. The chief offenders are the owners of vacant lots who of course never have the snow shoveled from their walks. Why doesn't the Police Department do something really useful by enforcing this law?

A WAR SUGGESTION.

To the Editor of The Gazette:
The following is a copy of a telegram I sent President Taft today. You are at liberty to make any use of it you may think fit. Yours very truly,
J. B. WHEELER.
Late Colonel of Cavalry.

Manitou, February 27.
His Excellency, William H. Taft, Washington, D. C.: I respectfully suggest pushing all troops available to the City of Mexico via Vera Cruz and El Paso immediately. Observe, ostensibly to protect American and foreign citizens and property. Several years ago in Denver a mob just ready to lynch hand grenades into the ranks of the militia were carried by the clear notes of a bugle. Up Seventeenth street, in close formation, marched the troops from Fort Logan. The sight was sufficient, and the mob faded away. General McCook did not await orders from the war department, but realized the peril, and acted instantly, justifying his action by his duty to protect government property. In my judgment, and I believe the army will agree with me, such an expedition with Mexico will accomplish equally good results, and the citizens of the United States, as well as foreign nations, will justify and applaud such action.

THE SERVANT PROBLEM.

To the Editor of The Gazette:
The reply to my article in Tuesday's paper by the person signing himself "Citizen" shows that he has a little conscience and that the shoe pinched.
No, indeed, I do not confuse the words "companion" and "servant." No maid is given an exorbitant wage for nothing. Far from it. Every maid earns every penny paid her, and in many cases a great deal more. Of course you have the right to all the privacy and privileges of a home. But is not the kitchen a part of the home? There is a decided difference between an open first-class boarding house and a private family dining room, even with the maid present enjoying with you the repart that she labored to prepare. There is also a wide difference between conditions surrounding employment in shops and factories and in private homes. If the man of the house is a doctor, lawyer, merchant or minister, does that imply that he is better in the sight of God than the people who serve him? Did the Savior, when he was on earth, make such distinction? Can you not recall one instance in the Bible where the servant was more worthy than his master?

Why should "the terms 'servant' and 'companion' be kept apart in fact and in practice?" If they have nothing in common and never can have, who is to blame—the servants or those who failed to do their duty to humanity? The servant problem is a deep problem that should be delved deep into, and the people awakened from their selfish slumber to the realization of duties before them and the Colorado Springs, Feb. 25.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Our citizens in the north end are complaining bitterly because they have to pay wages for the house cook and butler, and are anxious to open up summer schools to instruct the incompetent in domestic science.

Why? Let me give you the iron law of wages. Why does the merchant pay $3 per week to a girl clerk instead of $10? Because the supply is greater than the demand.

Open up a summer school and turn out 500 graduates in domestic science.

One hundred homes up north want a good cook and domestic servant.

Five hundred graduates apply for these 100 jobs. Now Mr. Citizen up north understands the iron law of wages and down goes the price to that of the girl clerk in the store—$3.

Why? Because there are 100 jobs and 500 graduates to draw from. My advice is to learn to be a good cook, girls, but if someone wants you to do their cooking and bottle washing, just tell them that your price is $100 per month with an increase of $25 each and every month you remain in his employ. "And you will get it."

THE SUFRAGETTES.

From the Duluth Herald.
Those English women who are demanding equal rights with men are threatening to starve themselves in jail. It might be educational to give them the same kind of treatment that men would get under the same conditions.

From the Jacksonville Times-Union.
Wonder if those suffragettes in England smash glass because it accurately reflects their features.

From the Scranton Truth.
The suffragette parade at Washington is in some respects going to be like a gathering of southern politicians. The paraders will all be generals or colonels.

From the Duluth News-Tribune.
The large male population in the District of Columbia that has to go on without a vote should command the attention of our suffragettes as an example of patient forbearance.

From the Toledo Blade.
English suffragettes are hurling disks labeled "Voes for Woman" at mere men, but so far their batting average is very low.

From the Milwaukee Sentinel.
Suffragettes are looking for a "pretty woman" to participate in their Washington parade. Sounds like an awful knock.

Curiosity a Virtue

By RUTH CAMERON.

There are some virtues that are much more irritating than vices. And there are some so-called vices that are far more forgivable than certain virtues.

I am thinking especially of curiosity. Curiosity, I believe, is usually placed in the ranks of the vices. Perhaps I should be a bit milder and say that it is considered a falling. Now, to my mind, curiosity has at least one foot on the right side of the dividing line—possibly both.

It seems to me that curiosity is as necessary to the healthy mind as hunger is to the body. One must be hungry in order to eat in order to grow physically. One must be curious in order to seek information in order to grow mentally. Curiosity, the thirst for information and understanding, is behind all knowledge and all wisdom.

Suppose Newton had not been curious to know why the apple fell. Suppose he had simply accepted the fact incuriously and eaten the apple, as most of us would have done. Then we should have had to wait for our laws of gravity until someone who knew enough to be curious about simple things appeared. Fortunately, Newton's mind hunger was keener than his body hunger.

A curious child is a child with a healthy mind. A child that never asks "Why?" will never amount to anything in the world. Of course, it is sometimes wise to try to give intelligent and helpful answers to constant questions. But imagine the mother who would rebel because her child had a healthy appetite and she had to spend so much time preparing food for him. And yet, answering a child's "Why?" is feeding his mind's appetite.

The curiosity which interests itself in our neighbor's concerns and horde on inquisitiveness is the society most in disrepute. Will I be absorbed in possible if I confess that I have a kindly feeling for that kind of curiosity? For myself, I like to listen to a good neighborhood gossip if her chat is friendly and not malicious. I like to know what my friends are saying and doing. I like to know where Mrs. M., the traveler of the neighborhood, is going to spend the winter, which among her numerous train my pretty little neighbor across the way likes best; and just how much money the neighborhood miser left when he finally had to relax his greedy grasp.

Yes, the cat is out of the bag now. I insist upon calling curiosity a virtue because I myself am one of the curious. Well, I am not ashamed of the fact or the motive. Who will defend us if we don't defend ourselves? I am curious, abundantly, and can never look down on a city and see the landscape "coming out in points of light" without thinking of the little group of hearts and interests clustered about each light. The bundles people carry fascinate me. I can never see a messenger boy carrying a nice long box that shouts out "roses" to all who have ears to hear, without thinking about the someone who is going to be delighted by that gift. I can never see two young lovers, or old ones either, for that matter, without being interested in their conversation and wondering what they think of each other and how they say it.

Yes, I'm curious, and I'm not ashamed of it. I have innumerable faults, but I refuse to say that one of them. Curiosity is one of my few virtues.

Good Taste

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

Good taste is a mysterious something, when added to $24.50 worth of clothes, makes a woman beautifully dressed while $1.875 worth of duds minus good taste is making another woman look like a portable scarecrow.

Good taste is caused by a sensitive eye, which is easily pained by jarring colors and designs in clothes, wall paper and office buildings. To soothe his eye a man with good taste will select a room with two hours in picking out a new room will harmonize with his own. When a man has this much good taste he ought to take some thing for it.

Good taste is closely related to fashion, but like most relatives, the two have little to do with each other. The woman who follows the fashions closely will sometimes get several thousand miles away from good taste and will forget the way back.

Good taste has nothing to do with eating. A man can have good taste without possessing a tongue. However, he will sometimes have difficulty in advertising the fact. Good taste can indicate a woman's refinement and prosperity without compelling her to put diamonds in her ears, and good taste makes a man depend more upon clean linen for good looks than upon shouting vests.

'Jarring colors and shapes in clothes.'

Immense amounts of good taste can often be found in a home which was furnished at a small cost. On the other hand, many a new-laid millionaire unloads a shipload of imported crockery and furniture into a forty-acre mansion and discovers afterward that he has crowded all the good taste out of the house.

It is sometimes difficult to tell just what is good taste. In this case the object in question should be allowed to sit around for fifty years. If it still looks good it is probably in good taste. When a house or a chair or a gown or a staircase can be admired long and their particular style has gone into history, they are a safe investment for the person who is more interested in taste than in novelty.

ELBING, Germany, Feb. 23.—Emperor William, today lost a law suit, brought against him by a tenant farmer named Saut, whom he boasted during a recent speech that he had "thrown out" because he was no good. The district court decided that the emperor was not entitled to terminate the lease of his tenant which ran until 1915.

ST. LOUIS PHYSICIAN WILL MAKE SECRET SERUM TESTS

DR. GEORGE M. HEATH.
After a recent conference with Charles E. Fitch, of the New York bank, who has offered $100,000 for a cure for tuberculosis, Dr. George M. Heath, the St. Louis physician, will make a serum that he believes will effect the cure in the majority of cases, announced that he had made out a list of 15 persons who are to be treated in secret. Dr. Heath declared his interest in the cure to be due to scientific and humanitarian reasons, and has told Mr. Fitch that he could convince him that he has found the cure that he had all he wanted. Dr. Heath has the record of a cure effected on a woman who was treated with the serum.

THE HASKIN LETTER

COOPERATIVE MARKETING

VII.—COOPERATIVE STORES.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

While the cooperative store, in which a certain number of consumers band themselves together and conduct a retail business of their own selling themselves at actual wholesale cost, plus the operating expenses, has not proved as successful in America as in Europe, there are many of the stores throughout the country, and in some of the states they are both numerous and highly successful. In some sections there are so many that the wholesaler cannot afford to ignore them, and where they get the concessions that the ordinary retail merchant enjoys they seem to succeed, and what's more, in the point, in a way that makes their movement feel that they are saving enough money by the operation to make the game well worth the candle.

A very large proportion of these stores have been organized under the auspices of the Right Relationship League of the United States, a league of apostles of cooperation who are preaching the gospel of the European form of cooperation. This league is a member of the International Co-operative Alliance, under whose banners march the cooperative organizations of the world. The league's business speakers on cooperation, counselors and organizers to advise merchants and people how to proceed, and experienced solicitors and organizers to assist in the organization of cooperative stores, creameries and elevators. It has an auditing department which regularly audits the accounts of these companies employing it. The league has no capital stock, but has some 12,000 life members. The cooperative stores it has organized in Minnesota, Wisconsin, the Dakotas, and Washington are operated by associations composed of 14,000 farmers, and they are ready to ship their produce direct to similar stores in the cities.

Cost of Cooperative Stores.
The reports of various cooperative companies show something of the cost of conducting retail businesses if they are run on sound principles. In a report showing the relation between total sales and salaries made by twenty-eight cooperative stores for the month of October, 1912, the highest selling cost, so far as salaries was concerned, was $6.70 on each hundred dollars' worth of goods sold. The lowest was $3, and the average about $5 per hundred. If we were to take that as the basis of salary expense in the retailing of the thirteen billion dollars' worth of farm products which the consumer annually buys, it will be seen that the consumer must annually pay $550,000,000 in salaries to the grocery clerks of the country. And it is probable that the salary expense of the cooperative store is approximately the same as that of the non-cooperative store.

It is the plan of the people of Minnesota to get a system of controlling the prices of commodities by organizing a sort of cooperation between the country cooperative store and the store in the city, as well to form a whole sale link that will give the cooperative all the advantages of low manufacturing prices. A hundred thousand dollar corporation to operate a cooperative store in Minneapolis has been formed, a fifty thousand dollar one in St. Paul has been organized, and one with a capital of $25,000 has been organized in Madison, Wisconsin. A wholesale grocery store and a wholesale drygoods and shoe store to be run cooperatively for the benefit of retail cooperative stores are being planned.

Wisconsin Recognizes Plan.
The development of the cooperative store has led the state of Wisconsin to pass a law providing for a proper recognition of the cooperative plan, the first law of its kind in America. The law provides for the incorporation of cooperative enterprises, limits the amount of stock any one person may hold in such an association, gives each shareholder a single vote regardless of the number of shares he may hold, and distributes the profits on the basis of the purchases made or the products sold. The Wisconsin legislature also created a state board of public affairs, and one of the subjects the board is directed to study is the problem of cooperation.

The New York State Food Investigating commission gives an interesting insight into the cost of food, and shows where great savings may be effected. It places the annual food bill of New York city at $664,000,000, and says that 45 per cent of this represents the cost of distribution. It believes that at least 20 per cent might be saved if proper distribution methods were in vogue. Of the retail value of the food sold it is estimated that at least 30 per cent represents the expenses and profits of the retailer alone. It is interesting to contrast with this the expense of selling goods in American cooperative stores. Going over a long list of cooperative store reports as to the actual costs of retailing, one may select at random the following examples: Alma Center Cooperative Marketing company, 13.5 per cent; Badger Cooperative company, 11.2 per cent; Clara City Cooperative company, 1.3 per cent; Fosston Cooperative company, 16.4 per cent. A margin of about 10 per cent seems to be about the average that must be added for selling expenses, and it very seldom goes above 15 per cent. Of course it is not fair to the retailer in his city to assume that his selling expenses are no higher than those of the average cooperative store in a small country town. But even granting that they are double, this still would indicate a net profit of 10 per cent on the goods sold.

More Failures in U. S. Than Europe.
There are many more failures among cooperative stores in the United States than there are among those in Europe. Perhaps the greatest reason for this is that the cooperative stores usually run on a cash basis and the buying public wants credit. Here is an account of a failure of a cooperative store because its members refused to pay cash and want to a regular grocery store where they got the ordinary credit. There is an account of another failure because the store finally began to carry slips as an evidence of debt, and then was forced to go upon a full credit basis, under which it was not able to survive.

Another difficulty that is experienced in making the cooperative store a success lies in the fact that the manager frequently is one of the cooperators, and has other irons in the fire which demand the major portion of his attention. Of course, such management is seriously handicapped when the owner is in competition with a grocer who devotes all his attention to his business, and who assumes all the risks involved. And then the hired manager is not always as satisfactory and as successful as the man whose well-being is at stake upon the success or failure of his business.

An American cooperative store usually is organized as a share company, each unit interested taking one or more shares. With 100 men taking a share at $100 each, there is a working capital of $10,000. The merchandise they handle is price-marked by the usual methods, the prices being marked high enough to make certain that they will bring the store out on the safe side of the profit-and-loss column at the end of the year. There first is allowed in the division of such surplus as there may be a dividend of, say, 5 per cent on capital, and the remaining profits are then distributed among those who buy in proportion to the purchases they have made.

Welcome November's Trade.
Many cooperative stores are glad to have nonmembers deal with them, and they are given a share of the rebate when the surplus is divided. Usually the share of the surplus distributed to nonmembers is half that distributed to members. For instance, if a dividend of 8 per cent is declared on members' patronage, the dividend to nonmembers will be 4 per cent.

It is an interesting fact that the bulk of the business of the cooperative stores of the country has to do with foodstuffs and the necessities of life. The average family budget generally comes to look upon their groceries, bill as the principal outlay in the high cost of living. The statistics of the average family budget

MRS. M'INTYRE BROUGHT TO SPRINGS FOR TRIAL

Mrs. Bee McIntyre, arrested in Denver Thursday night for the local police charge of obtaining a small quantity of merchandise under false pretenses, was brought to Colorado Springs yesterday by Detective Gavin and taken to the county jail to await trial. It is said that Mrs. McIntyre obtained credit at two stores by representing that she was employed at the local hotel. She told the authorities yesterday upon her return to Colorado Springs that she fully intended to pay for the articles sold to her. Mrs. McIntyre is 22 years old, and during her residence in Denver stopped at the W. C. A.

Mrs. McIntyre denies any knowledge of a robbery which Mrs. F. H. Duke reported North Tejon street reported to be police as having disappeared. Mrs. McIntyre and Mrs. Duke occupied the same house several weeks ago and the alleged disappearance of the ring was reported until it was learned that Mrs. McIntyre had left the city. She declares that she knows nothing of the ring.

FORTY-FOUR YEARS TODAY IN BANKING BUSINESS

C. C. Hemming, president of the El Paso National bank, is today celebrating the forty-fourth anniversary of his entry into the banking business. Forty-four years ago this morning Mr. Hemming started on his duties as clerk at a bank at Brenham, Tex. He has been in Colorado about 13 years, all of which time he has been connected with the El Paso National. He was vice president of that institution several years ago.

COUNCIL WON'T ACT ON AMUSEMENT LAW

Plan to Have Theaters Open on Sunday Will Be Left With Voters

If the city commissioners of Colorado Springs will be decided entirely by a vote of the people and not by any ordinance put through by the council, a petition for the amendment of such a law has been in circulation for the last two weeks and it will be necessary to file it with the clerk today. The question to be voted on at the coming election. Today and not yesterday, as was stated in the last day for filing petitions relative to initiative or referendum matters. The council will hold an adjourned meeting at 10 o'clock this afternoon to receive the various petitions and to refer them to the city attorney and clerk for examination as to their legality before the questions are introduced on the ballot.

At yesterday's meeting a petition for a vote to amend the charter providing for preferential voting, and a petition asking that the liquor ordinance be amended to permit patrons to take liquors into the public dining rooms of restaurants, were presented. Both were referred to the city attorney and clerk for examination as to legality and sufficiency.

CORPORATIONS SEND REPORTS TO COUNCIL

The annual reports of three corporations operating here under franchises granted by the city—the Colorado Springs Light Heat & Power Co., the Citizens Light Heat & Power Co., and the Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Co.—were received at the city hall yesterday and referred to the city attorney for examination. The reports were submitted in compliance with a provision of the charter and that of the telephone company is given out under protest and as a courtesy to the administration rather than in any recognition of the city's right of authority to demand a statement of the corporation's receipts and disbursements.

The Colorado Springs Light Heat & Power company report shows receipts of $339,848 for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1912, and expenses of $242,601.16, of which $110,674.48 was expended in wages and salaries. The report of the Citizens company shows receipts of $17,606.29 and expenses of $14,086.03, nothing being charged to wages and salaries.

The telephone company report gives the apportionment of general expense for this district, which includes all the charges under local supervision as $2,499.08, and receipts from operations in this district $215,558.97. For salaries and wages, the total given is $37,624.95, for taxes $2,121.19, for depreciation $50,493.88, for material, etc., $37,616.20 which, added to the apportionment of general expenses makes a total expense of $152,915.45.

Anticipating a good business this spring, Mr. Hiltbrand, 123 1/2 N. Tejon street has just received two carloads of pianos.

"BARON" VON SCHMIDT IS SUED ON PROMISSORY NOTE

Herrmann V. Schmidt, known as "Baron" Von Schmidt, and a familiar figure in Colorado Springs for the last three years or so, was made defendant in a suit for $954.10, filed in the county court yesterday by G. M. Boyles. Boyles sues on a promissory note executed by Schmidt in favor of R. E. Dale & Son, October 4, 1912, and due December 1, 1912, with interest at a rate of 2 per cent a month, according to the complaint. Boyles purchased the note from Dale & Son.

The plaintiff claims that only $17.00 of the note's interest on the original note of $954.10 has been paid, and sues for the principal, plus interest of $84.10 and $50 attorney fees.

"Baron" Von Schmidt's friends claim that he has paid back about $1,700 on the note and that he is the victim of loan shark methods of the worst kind. He has been paying interest at a rate of more than 10 per cent a week, it is alleged.

On the other hand, the plaintiff, it is understood, will contend that the "baron" is the victim of his own "peculiar" system of bookkeeping.

Schmidt, it is said, gave checks in payment of principal and interest, but the bank refused payment because of lack of funds. The "baron" would thereupon credit himself in his "own private cash book" with the amount of the alleged worthless check. When one worthless check was handed to the "baron," it is alleged, he would at once write out another—equally worthless.

The suit was filed at the county court yesterday and the jury hearing the suit was held in the morning and a verdict was reached last night.

Coates asks for a divorce on the ground of his wife's adultery. The complaint was filed at the county court yesterday and the jury hearing the suit was held in the morning and a verdict was reached last night.

BIDS OPEN FOR NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS

The board of education is now opening bids for the construction of a three-story annex to the high school building and a one-story building to be occupied by the manual training department. In the neighborhood of $10,000 will be spent by the board in remodeling the present high school building, and the entire project will represent $40,000 which is to be paid by the money the board can afford to put into new work this year. The probable cost of the annex will be $35,000 while the manual training building will cost about $2,000.

The manual training building will have a permanent foundation and basement while the superstructure will be only temporary. This structure becomes necessary as the board is unable to do better in account of the limited amount of money at its disposal. The construction of permanent structure will be done later. Bids for these additions must be in by March 1.

Petitions will be circulated this morning pertaining to the closing of the avenue to vehicle traffic and a vote will be taken on this question at the second election, April 15.

Should this vote favor the closing of the avenue the board will provide with the city council that 30 feet be left open for pedestrians.

At The Theater

THRILL FROM PETER GRIMM

Of all the stories which the grand wizard of the stage, David Belasco, has written and that other great artist of the drama, David Warfield, has selected, it is generally conceded that the thrilling, melodramatic episode in "The Return of Peter Grimm" presents the dramatic student the most ennobling instance of stagecraft and artistry. It is of particular interest at this moment as theatergoers are to see Mr. Warfield's wonderful impersonation of Peter Grimm.

DAVID WARFIELD

"The Return of Peter Grimm" at the Grand Opera House tonight.

That any dramatist could so work in a scene based upon so illusionary a theme as the desire of a spirit to convey his message to earth and for any actor to be able to make this theme possible, a penetrating reality might seem beyond the skill of the stage. That it is done with conviction is conceded to be the triumph of both the efforts of David Belasco and David Warfield. Mr. Belasco's play has been recently proclaimed by no less a dramatic authority than the venerable Brander Matthews to be a greater drama than any put forth by Masterlinck, Hauptmann, or d'Annunzio, and Mr. Warfield's power to effectively portray the spirit of Peter Grimm, who is first seen as a normal and healthy human being, is considered to be his greatest artistic achievement.

The particular occurrence in the play has evoked the admiration of dramatic students in the strange scene in which little William is forced against his trembling self to deliver the message that the spirit of Peter Grimm wishes to convey to his beloved ward, Catherine, that Frederick, his nephew, the man to whom he had given her to agree to marry, is a scoundrel and is the father of little William himself. It is for this purpose the spirit of Peter Grimm returns to the earth. Up to this time Catherine had believed in Frederick and is preparing to marry him the next day against her own desire, but in accordance with the sacred promise she had given to her beloved Peter, before he died.

The scene takes its beginning when Peter Grimm finally appears in his old guise and the only one who can feel his presence is the fragile boy, William, who is what is known as a "sensitive." The boy tells to the household that Peter Grimm has returned and he

SPECIAL TODAY AT THE PRINCESS

It is with pleasure that the management announces the extra added attraction which is to be given at the Princess today. The services of the Schubert Ladies' quartet have been secured and are sure to interest all who have music. The work of this quartet from a musical standpoint is superb, and they have the distinction of being one of the very few ladies' quartets in this country who are all sisters. You cannot afford to miss this extra attraction which is sure to please. The special program for today is "The Power of Silence," which is a play in two full acts and is full of interest from start to finish. Of course, there will be music a good deal in the program. The Vienna comedy, entitled "The Little Minister," which is a masterpiece of comedy, is also on the program. It is a play in three acts and is full of interest. Come and see for yourself. Just a reminder for next Monday and Tuesday. You will, on these dates, have the opportunity to see the best picture ever released in Colorado Springs. The wonderful picture is "The Little Minister." Nearly everyone has read the book or seen the play. If you want to see the best production, this is your opportunity. It is a play in three acts. Watch Sunday's paper for more about "The Little Minister." Remember today only, the Schubert Ladies' quartet.

REV. AND MRS. MCCONNELL HAVE LEFT MEXICO CITY

DENVER, Feb. 28.—Bishop and Mrs. Francis J. McConnell of the Methodist Episcopal church, whose home is in Denver and who have been unable to leave Mexico City on account of the recent fighting and disarranged train service, sailed from Vera Cruz today. This information was contained in a message received by Mrs. N. J. McConnell, mother of the bishop, which read:

"Impossible to come by rail. Sailing today for Havana and Florida. Word also was received today from Karl J. Link, mining engineer, who was wounded recently in a rebel raid on the Tiro General mine near San Luis Potosi. Link said he expected to leave Mexico as soon as an opportunity afforded.

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN TORE HER CLOTHES

Testifies She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound.

Malone, N. Y.—"Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound has certainly done me a lot of good. I first heard of it when I was a girl and I always said that if I ever had female trouble I would take it."

"I suffered from organic inflammation and would have spells when I would be in such pain that I would tear my clothes. One day my husband got the neighbors in to see what the matter was but they could not help me. My first thought was for Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound and I sent my husband out for it and took it until I was entirely cured. I am a woman of perfect health and my health and happiness came from Lydia E. Finkham's medicine. You may rest assured that I do all I can to recommend your wonderful medicine to my friends."

—Mrs. FREDERICK, Route No. 3, Malone, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

PHONE CO. ATTACKS DENVER ORDINANCE

DENVER, Feb. 28.—The telephone company has filed a petition in the district court to have the city ordinance which requires the company to maintain its lines in the city streets removed. The ordinance contained a provision that the company should maintain its lines in the city streets in a manner that would not be a burden on the city. The company's petition is based on the fact that the ordinance is a burden on the company and that it is not in the public interest.

Man Puts Out Eyes as Self Punishment

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—A man who had been suffering from a severe case of insanity, put out his eyes today in self-punishment.

He had not believed in suicide, but he had believed in self-punishment. He had been suffering from a severe case of insanity, and he had been in the hospital for a long time. He had been told that he would be released, but he had not believed it. He had decided to put out his eyes as a punishment for himself.

SENATOR KERN TO BE CAUCUS CHAIRMAN?

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Will not be a candidate for re-election as chairman of the Democratic caucus of the senate and Senator Kern of Virginia, who has held the position for the last two years, is expected to be replaced by a new chairman.

LEWIS' FRIENDS SAY HE WAS LEGALLY ELECTED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 28.—Friends of James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic primary candidate for United States senator from Illinois, registered today that he was legally elected in yesterday's joint ballot by reason of receiving 56 of 114 votes recorded. This contention is to be presented to Attorney General Lewis for an opinion and if the opinion is favorable, Governor Dyer will be asked to issue a certificate of election to Colonel Lewis. Republicans in the legislature insist that there was no election because less than a quorum of the joint assembly took part in the vote.

DOUBLE-TURRETED MONITOR PURITAN WILL BE TARGET

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The big double-turreted monitor, Puritan, was today stricken from the naval list after 20 years' service. She was built at the Norfolk navy yard, was launched in 1892, and carried a complement of 290 officers and men.

MAN MAY DIE AS RESULT OF SMILING

STOCKTON, Cal., Feb. 28.—A smile may cost the life of "Silent" Carson. For three years Carson has been under sentence of death for attacking a prison guard in a break for liberty. During that time he has not spoken a word or displayed the slightest emotion.

F. J. FIELDER, president of the senate of the state legislature of New Jersey, who succeeded Woodrow Wilson as governor of that state and the latter resigned on Feb. 25 to make final arrangements for his inauguration as president of the United States on March 4.

FRANCISCO DE LA BARRA

Francisco de la Barra, former Mexican ambassador to the United States, who was shot as a traitor to Mexico.

Under the most rigorous tests even chloroform could not break his vitality. He was finally admitted insane and removed to a state hospital, but today it became known that one of the hospital attendants reported this week that he had smiled. New tests are being conducted, and physicians say that they may result in the review of former findings and execution of the death sentence.

$300,000,000 POSSIBLE SAVING FROM WOOD WASTE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The possibility of more thoroughly utilizing the enormous quantities of waste residues wood produced in the lumber industry has been disclosed by an investigation just completed by the bureau of agricultural economics, department of agriculture. It is found, and less than 10 percent of the waste is being utilized. It is estimated that the waste could be utilized to a value of nearly $300,000,000.

MANUEL GALERO

Manuel Galero, former Mexican ambassador to the United States and prominent in Mexican affairs, whose name was found on the list that the executed Gustavo Madero had compiled of the men who "ought to die" because they were dangerous to the Madero administration.

Invalid Men and Women

I will give you FREE a sample of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets that have brought health and happiness to thousands—also a book on any chronic disease requested.

During many years of practice I have used numerous combinations of curative medicines for liver ills. I have kept a record of the result in case after case, so that my staff of physicians and surgeons, at the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., are able to diagnose and treat cases at a distance with uniform good results.

But for the permanent relief of blood disorders and impurities, I can recommend my "Golden Medical Discovery," a blood medicine without alcohol or other injurious ingredients.

R. V. PIERCE, M.D., Buffalo, N. Y.

Nature's Way Is The Best

Buried deep in our American forest we find bloodroot, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, golden seal, Oregon grape root and cherry bark. Of these Dr. R. V. Pierce made a pure, riverine extract which has been favorably analyzed for over forty years. He called it "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY." This "Discovery" purifies the blood and tones up the stomach and the entire system in Nature's own way. It's just the tissue builder and tonic you require.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has the endorsement of many thousands that it has cured them of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heartburn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

"In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption, the 'Golden Medical Discovery' is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on-coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The 'Discovery' is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken."

Sold in tablet or liquid form by all principal dealers in medicines, or send fifty one-cent stamps for trial package of tablets.

To find out more about the above mentioned diseases and all about the body in health and disease, get the Common Sense Medical Adviser—the People's Schoolmaster in Medicine—revised and up-to-date book of 1,008 pages. Cloth-bound, sent postpaid on receipt of 31 cents in one-cent stamps to pay cost of wrapping and mailing only. Address: Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.
